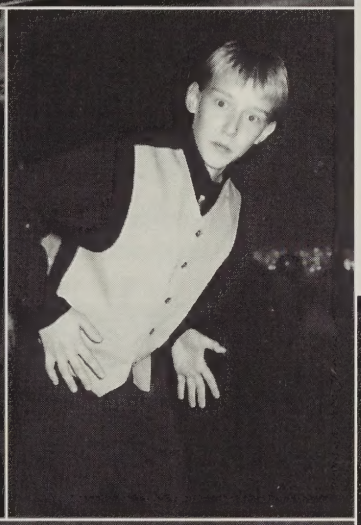
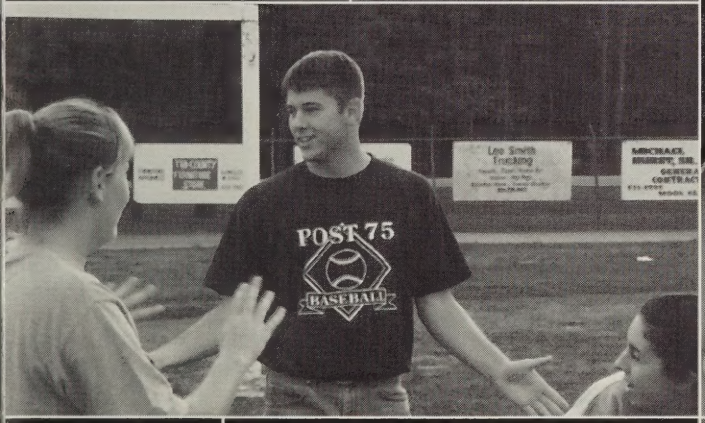
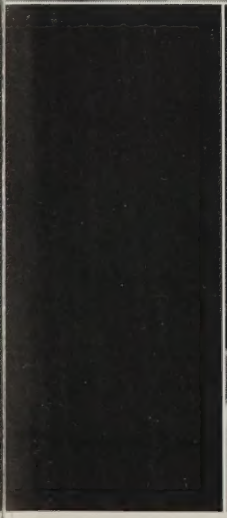
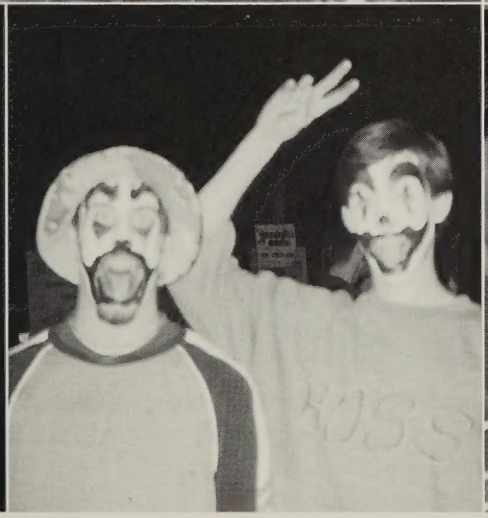
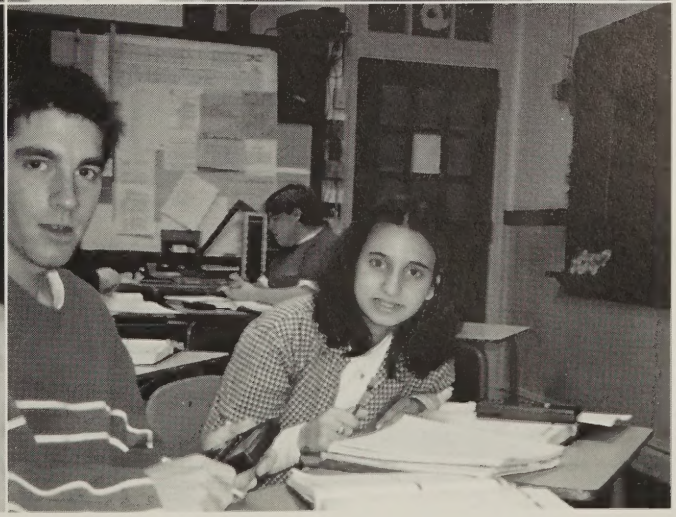
FIRST Semester











Lauren Thomas and Rhonda Howlett do an equipment check during Advanced P.E. class.

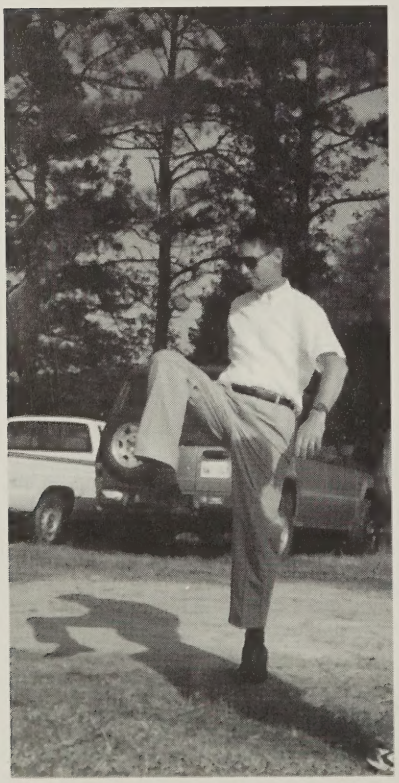
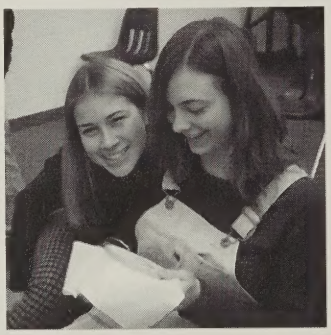
Barbara Hodges casts her vote in the mock-electi for Mathews Sheriff. Danny Howlett won by a lar margin.



Mr. Malechek joins the cross country team in a game of hacky sack.



Lara Townsend gets some needlework done, but is distracted by Meagan Webster.

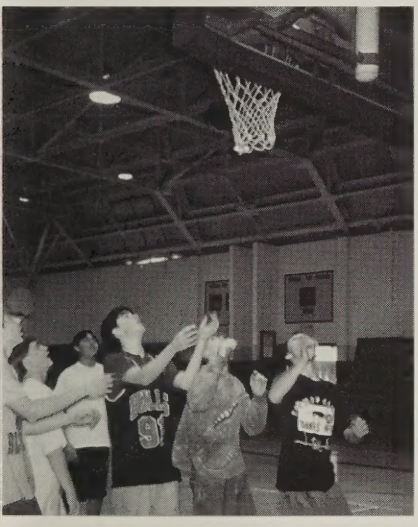
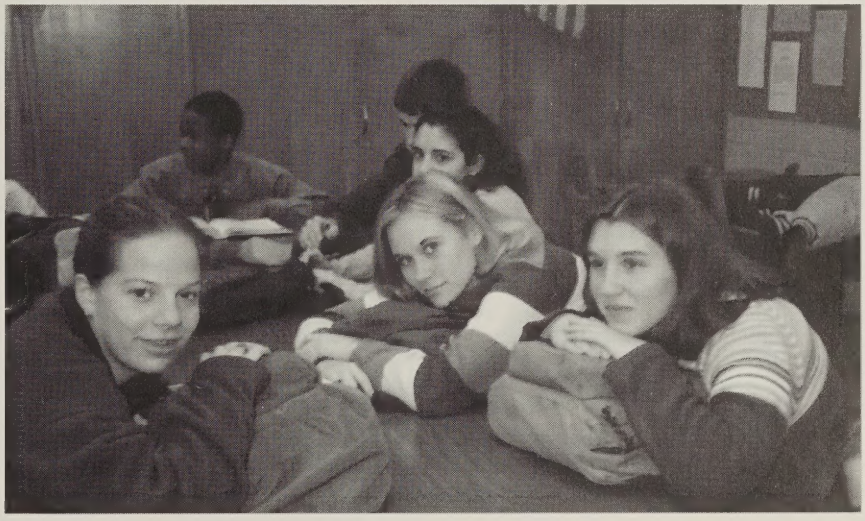
Wendy Harlow, Jennifer Fry, and Trisha Lock prefer to eat outside during lunch.

Division Superintendent Mr. Ward and school board members (l - r: Mrs. Anne Wortham, Mr. Les Hall, Mrs. Wilnett Willis, Mr. Carlton Brooks & Dr. Mo Richards) sign the contract to renovate MHS. Groundbreaking was set for March 1.

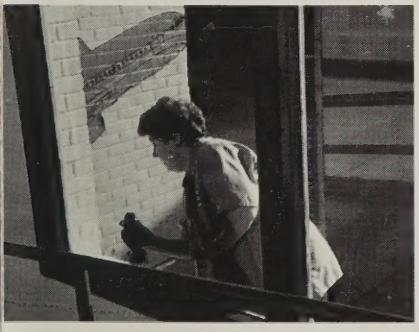
Morgan Stillman marches down Main Street with the rest of the MHS band.



The Freshmen amuse themselves in gym class by playing a quick basketball game.



Jennifer Mabe, Carla Teagle, and Sarah Hammond rest themselves as they wait for the bell to ring.



Mrs. Rainier cleans up the dirty courtyard windows.

Tommy Locklin, Marc Payne, Andy Sadler, and Jason Rowe are fascinated by the arrival of the afternoon buses.

William Berg, Jimmy Sopko, and Lucas Bohn utilize their compl mentary bibs during a stop at McDonalds.

Kristina Smith and Shanell Foster look happy to be getting out of school early courtesy of Hurricane Floyd.

Mrs. Allen's ecology class participates in a program to sa the Chesapeake Bay oysters by constructing oyster floats

The senior girls and their coaches & cheerleaders celebrate their victory over the juniors in the Powderpuff Football Game.

A guide from the Virginia Living Museum is ready to distribute spelunking equipment to MHS students.

Erin Crabill looks relieved to finally emerge from the cave during a cave-exploring field trip.

Some MHS students take time out from dancing at the Ring Dance to relax...or to enjoy James Krigsvold's antics.

The coveted powder puff football trophy was on display in the cafeteria the day of the game.

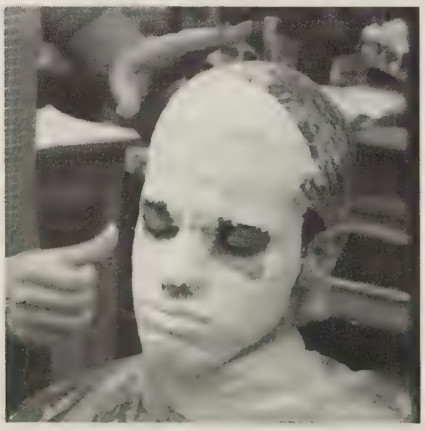
Victoria Guthrie, Becky Lakin, Adam Beatley, and Ivy Brotherton are all dressed up and ready to party at the Ring Dance.

The courtyard always has a lively crowd during lunch blocks.

Amanda Hardesty examines organisms from the James River in a lab for ecology class.

Football team members Adam Murphy, Zach Hammonds, Jeff Stern, and Jason Barrack seriously ponder the antics of the pep rally.

Freshmen complete a project on "The Odyssey" for Mr. Stevens' English class.



Jonathan Canose is immortalized in art class as the model for the face of the mummy death mask.

Greg Brown, Barbara Hodges, Stephanie Boyd, Kittie Brooks, and Laura Bickett wait in line to order their senior supplies.

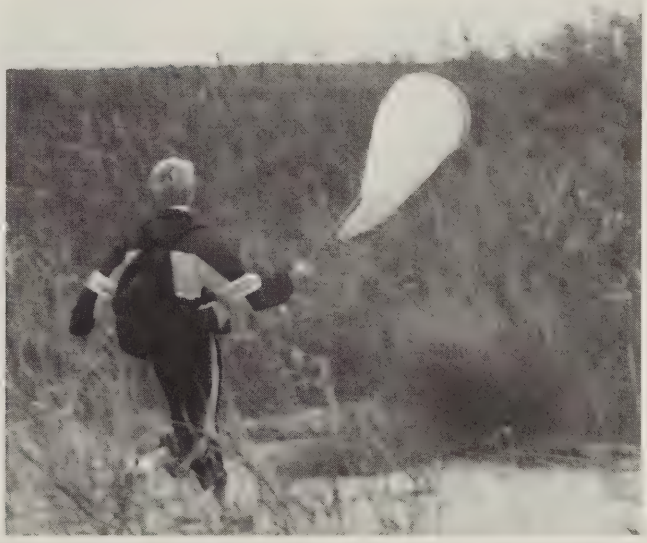
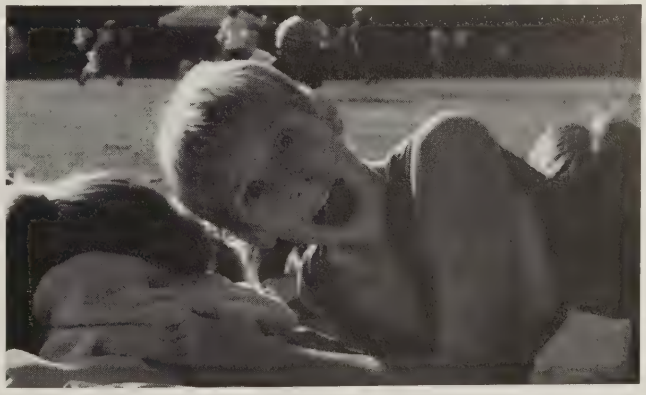
This group of students went on a field trip with the Virginia Living Museum to learn about different ecosystems and how they work.

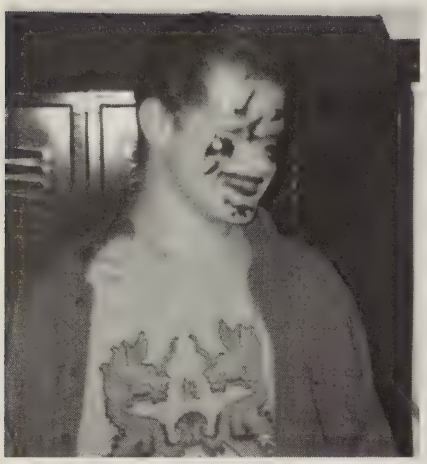


Lucas Bohn chases after an elusive Monarch butterfly on a field trip to the beach.

The Varsity Girls' Cross Country team looks like they're ready for their race at the Peninsula Catholic Invitational.

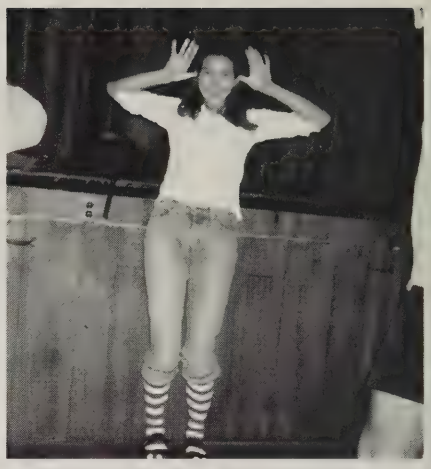


Either John Michael Clark has had too much sugar, or he's a little stressed-out about his race!



Insane Clown Posse? I think not. Matt Hill shows his school spirit on Blue and Gold Day.

Aaagh! A teletubby! Oh, wait, it's just Victoria Guthrie on Hat Day!



Melinda Tucker goofs around at the Senior class meeting on Crazy Sock Day.

The flag team shows their support and gets into the swing of things during the homecoming game.

The Grand Marshalls of the Homecoming parade, Mr. and Mrs. John Deputy, ride through the courthouse.

Dawn South and Courtney Edwards are amused by a strutting Becky Lakin.

The Blue Devils charge out onto the field, ready for action and anticipating victory against the West Point Pointers. Unfortunately, Mathews was defeated.

Senior attendant Michelle Miller rides in the Homecoming Parade.

Ryan Waddell gets some help with his boutonniere from Miss Katie Dutton.

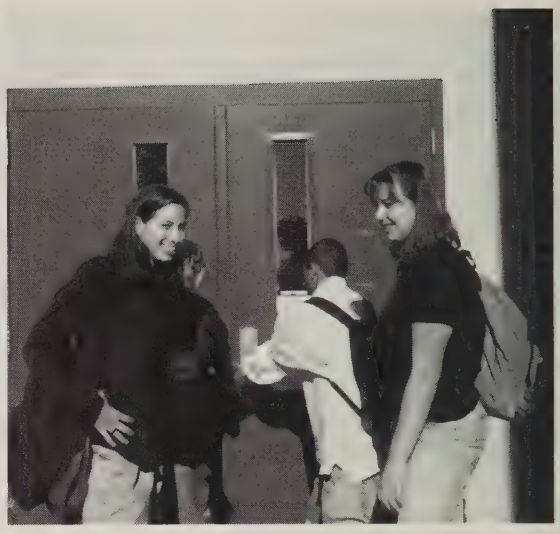
Mr. Malechek crowns Lauren Richards the 1999 MHS Homecoming Queen.

Freshman attendants Nicole Helbig and Catherine Holmberg.

Sophomore attendants Cassie Lane and Aaron Akins.

Junior attendants April Morgan and Carla Teagle.

MHS student Aaron Pierce went to Honduras as a missionary and got to test out his knowledge of the Spanish language.



Amy Dennis, Cherie Bennett, Bobby Smith and Brian Gaskins seem to be locked out of the school. It must be 8:06!

Adam Mason looks rather calm as he gets ready to donate blood for the Beta Club blood drive.

Mrs. Allen's ecology class attempts to beautify MHS by planting flowers in the front of the building.

Zach Hammonds presents Jason Holiday with a "You Made A Difference" ribbon.

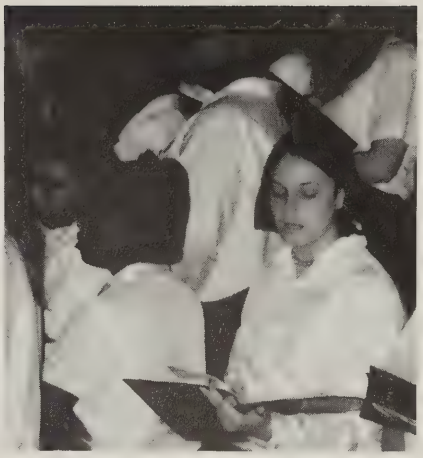
Yerlene Crivello cautions her journalism accomplises to be quiet as they prepare to cross over into enemy territory.

Charles Thompson looks less than thrilled to receive a silky nightgown for Christmas.

Everyone is excited about exchanging gifts before Christmas break.

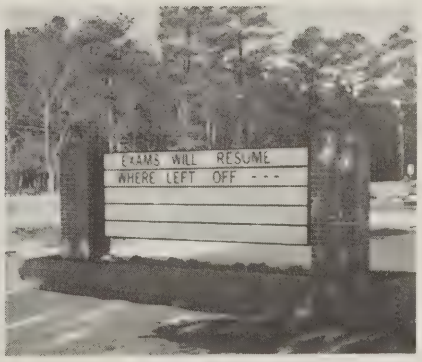


Serenity Brown and Angela Weatherington harmonize sweetly during the holiday chorus concert.

Santa Malechek graced us with his presence during the MHS Holly Ball.

John Bates, Dennis Williams, Ray Bucklew, and Benny Burrell seem to be caught up in the Christmas spirit.

The Blizzard of 2000 blew in on January 9, blanketing everything in white and closing school for seven days.



The snow interrupted exam week, allotting extra study time for students.

Lara:
Such a short sweet time ago
An angel joined our home,
And ever since the miracle such
Happiness we've known
Oh how we've watched you through
The years so full of love and pride
Your heart so kind and spirit pure-
A little girl inside
We've been so blessed to share
Your life and now we'll watch you fly
With wings you've earned and dreams you've reached

We love you, Dad and Mom

Buster and Winky

It seems like yesterday you both walked side by side to receive your pre-school diploma. Now thirteen years later, you're walking side by side once again into a new millenium and a new beginning to receive your high school diplomas. You've grown together over the years. We are very proud of you both. Set goals for yourselves in life as you have done in school and accomplish these goals. May you be blessed with love, faith, and happiness as you go through.

Kittie, we love you and are very proud of you.
God bless you,
Daddy, Mama, and Kelsey

Brent, we are so very proud of you and love you very much.
God bless you,
Mom, Dad, and Megan

Dearest Miriam,
We love you so much. This growing up business has happened much too fast. Just remember, it's OK to choose the path less traveled, the narrower gate, and never fail to question before you venture.
Love,
Mom, Kenny, Nema, Elizabeth, David, and Shannon

Congratulations to our special girl (aka Annie, Squirrel, or Leigh Anne). God bless you in all you do!

We Love You.

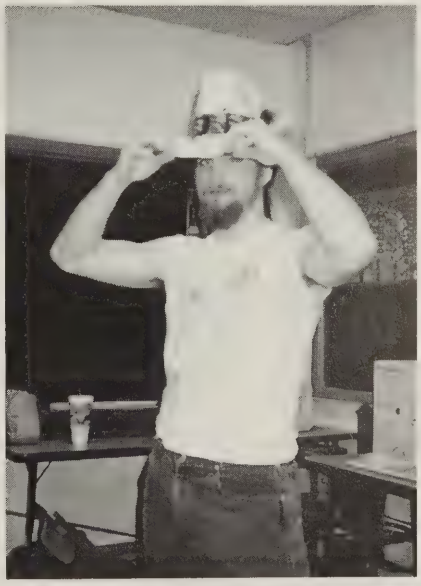
L.J. Savidge has his stage makeup applied as Josh Dehoux waits his turn.

Curly and Laurie (William Berg and Beth Brown) take time out for a picture.



Ray Bucklew gets into character as Judd Fry.

Mr. Shuber and his Music Theory class (Jaime Davis, Lara Townsend, Ray Bucklew, Erica Muller and Meagan Webster) examine a play.

Morgan Stillman, Warren Hobbs, and Angel Close speak with a chef about job options during career day.

Amy Dennis welcomes the new Betas at the induction.

Kevin Criswell successfully uses the stilts he made in Building Trades class.

Heather Wheat, Lauren Thomas, Anna Plum, and Abby Nitzsche are new Betas!

The Senior Beta inductees Carrie Priest, Jennif Mabe, and Alicia Berrier look excited about becor ing Betas.

Students socialize in the halls during lunch as a construction worker removes a light.

Workers removed the beams of the ceiling in the auditorium very carefully prior to demolishing the stage.

Matt Hill catches a trespasser in the halls of MHS and detains him with a trashbag leash of his own invention.

Beta Club members Melissa Keller, Rachel Cross, Natalie Shuber and Jennifer Clark track the progress of the canned food drive.

The Mathews County School Board and Board of Supervisors pose for a picture at the groundbreaking ceremony on March 1.

Mr. Anthony caught in the act of what he does best: playing solitaire on the computer.

Lucas Bohn uses Mrs. Holaday as a human music stand as he plays the National Anthem before a wrestling match.

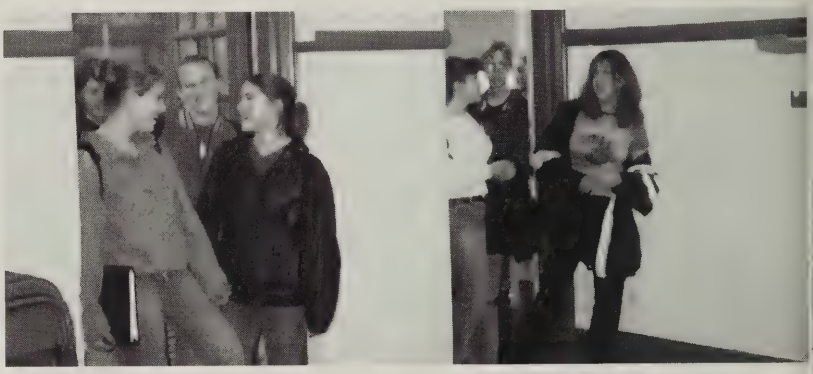
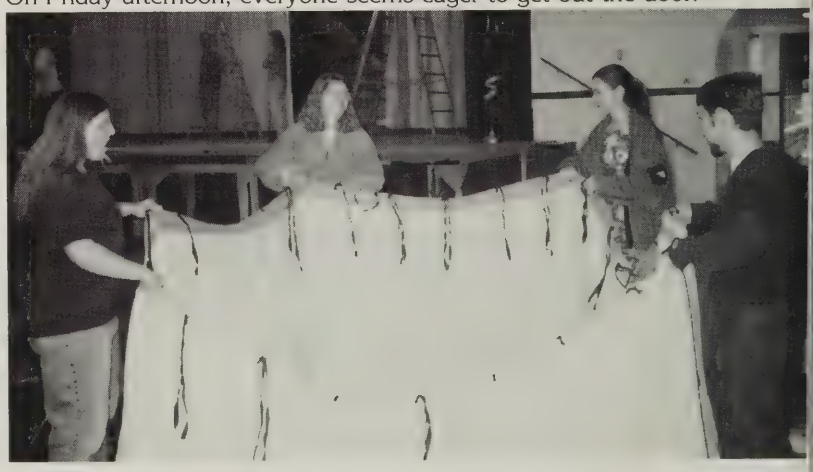
Brent Morris and Natalie Shuber juggle boxes before packing up canned goods.

Seniors Kim Milton and Miriam Wolan risk life and limb to sneak into a restricted construction area (aka the courtyard) for a quick picture.

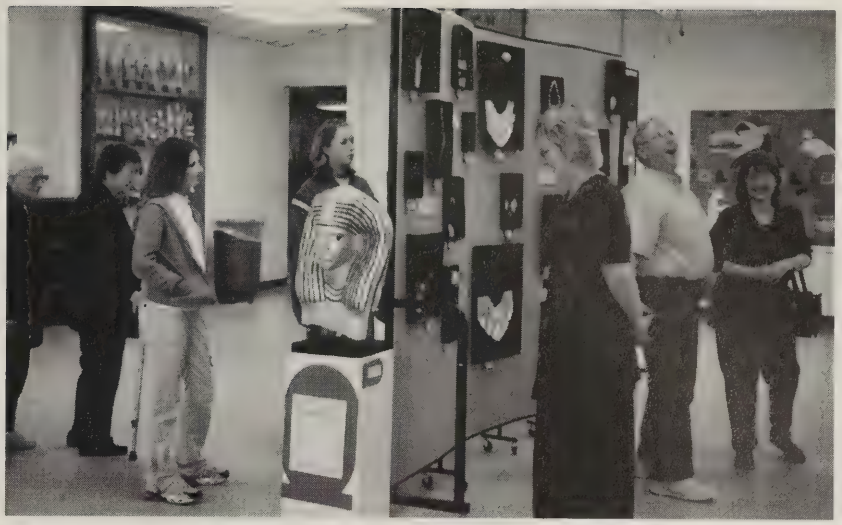


On Friday afternoon, everyone seems eager to get out the door!



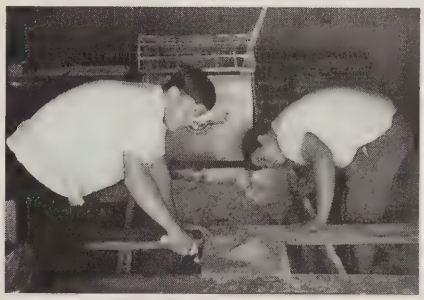
One day after Oklahoma finds Tammy Stoops, Jaime Davis, Erin Crabil and Jason Colman begin the tedious (and dangerous) process of tearing down the MHS stage forever.

Librarians Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Ward take a quick tour of the future library.



Parents and students admire the works of art displayed at the student art show. The focus of the show was Egyptian art.

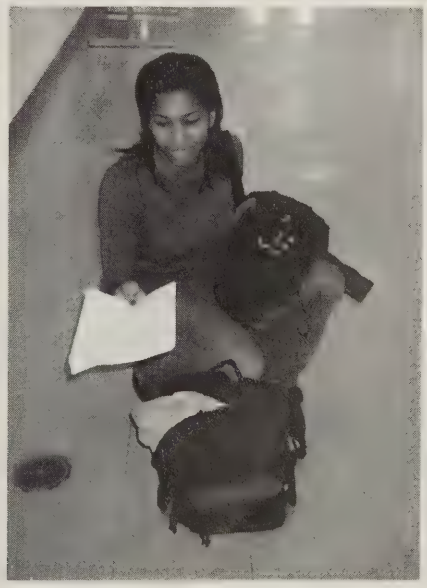
With the library closed and the auditorium "history", Laura Bickett poses for her senior formal portrait in the construction site.



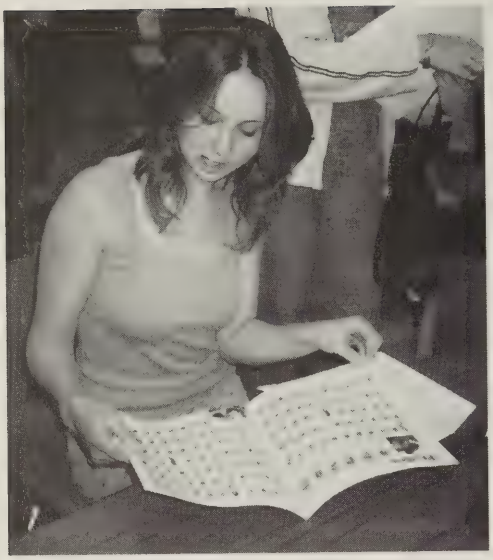
Jeff Sterne and Josh Sawyer work diligently in Mr. Payton's bricklaying class.

Senior Adam Rowe has a solution for the construction-caused dust problem. Mrs. Deputy seems unimpressed.

Honor White is impressed by the possibility of making big bucks in the Army National Guard.



Devin Cosby tries to get her things together in the middle of the hallway.



Cassie Lane browses through a class ring catalog.

Nursing assistants Stephanie Lowe and Jennifer Colman make up a patient's bed at the nursing home.

Monica Hardesty examines and tries on various class rings.

Ordering the class ring: Phillip Chambers, Justin Cather, Eddie Doiron and Marquita Roye.

Seniors take an oath in government class and become registered voters.

Jaime Davis and Erin Crabill run through a scene in the play "Just Desserts", which was performed at Daffodils Restaurant.

Students heading to weightlifting get a big surprise... the weight room has been torn down! "So... we run laps?"

Bobby Smith picks up his senior supplies from the Josten's representative at lunch.

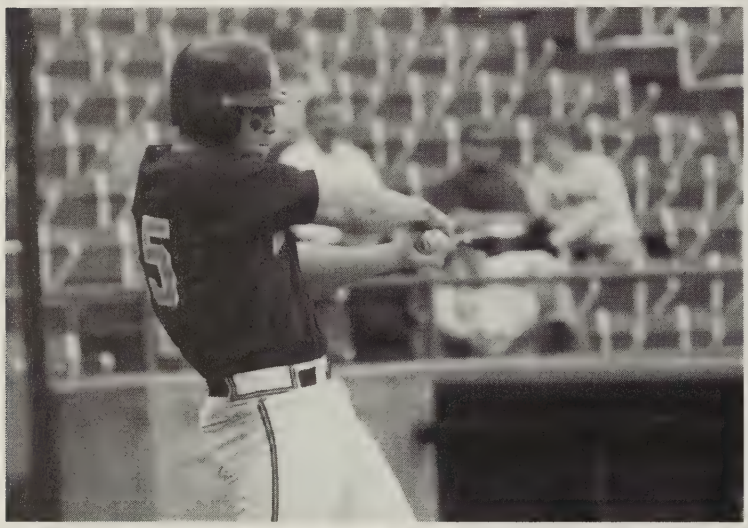
Beth Offield, Trisha Locklin, Honor White and Laura Bickett squint on a science-ecology field trip to help restore the oysters to the Chesapeake Bay. The group planted 25,000 oysters on an artifical reef in the East River.



The varsity soccer team won district regular season and tournament titles before losing to Nandua in the last second of a regional semi-final game. The baseball team also won district regular season and tournament titles, and qualifying for the state tournament. They lost a close 3 - 1 state game at Strassburg. Here, Jason Holaday connects for a key hit.

Kristen Trowbridge and Leigh Anne Hudson celebrate the construction-motivated early ending of school with some table-top dancing. School closed a week early on June 2.

These juniors were sworn-in as student members of county agencies for the 2000 - 2001 term: Tammy Stoops, Rachel Renner, William James, Andrew Wroten and Kamilah Turner.

Mr. Vrooman, technology coordinator, presents technology aid Chris Harwood with gifts of appreciation during the senior awards assembly.

The 2000 prom Ever After was held on April 28 at the Abington Ruritan Club. The days before the prom were filled with activity.

From top: Head Junior sponsor Mrs. Byrd figures out a centerpiece; April Morgan is the "victim" in the SADD Club's mock accident; Junior Hannah Morgan returns her risk-and-release form; Terrell Jarvis signs-up for a prom table; Senior Melissa Denny gives her "final answer" in the after-prom "Do You Want to Be a Millionaire" assembly; Jimmy Sopko hands-out prom promise forms in English class; William Berg guesses the amount of candy in the after-prom jar.
